

Reaching Out to our Military

Are you burdened to reach out to military women and their families?
Maybe you have a military base or installation close to you,
but you just aren't sure how to build a relationship

Read on.....

1. Spend time in prayer for the military wives, mothers or those who are in active service. Pray how you might reach out to these women in word and deed in order to touch them with the Good News of Jesus Christ
2. Begin to identify a team of women in your community and the local Stonecroft women who desire to join you in prayer for the military families in your area. Share your burden with Stonecroft's regional leadership and your Divisional Field Director.
3. Begin to network and gather names of people in your community and within the Stonecroft network who have contacts with men and women located at the military base in your region. These contacts may be the first contacts to assist you and Stonecroft staff as we begin to connect and build relationships with the Chaplain's at the local base.
4. We want to encourage and equip you as a Stonecroft leader! We have 2 Divisional Field Directors, identified below, who will personally coach you on how to identify military base personnel, make important connections, and walk along side as you begin to establish relationships. Each step of the way, Stonecroft staff will assist and guide your local team as you seek to understand the Chaplain's needs and eventually begin to serve military wives and their families.

Divisional Field Directors (military field specialist)

Pauletta Staley in the West – pstaley@stonecroft.org

Anne Schneider in the East – aschneider@stonecroft.org

Stonecroft Ministries has many programs and resources that Chaplains have been attracted to: Pray and Play, Stonecroft bible studies, Outreach events, and workshops are just a few!

If the Chaplain is interested in hearing more about Stonecroft, a Divisional Field Director will travel to meet with you, the military Chaplain(s), and your local team.

Arranging accommodations for Stonecroft staff would be greatly appreciated!

Keep informed through the enewsletter and future regional and national conference calls.