

JANINE DAVIS

Awarding-Winning Radio & TV Personality
Community Advocate

JANINE DAVIS is an award-winning 20-year veteran of the professional broadcasting industry and currently serves as Producer/Co Host of Charlotte's #1 urban radio morning show NO LIMIT LARRY AND THE MORNING MADDHOUSE heard each weekday morning on WPEG-FM.

Active in the community, Janine started Girl Talk Foundation, Inc. in 2003 after visiting several middle and high schools, where girls opened up to her with their issues. Janine organized an all-girls rap session later that year to focus on the needs of teen girls—nearly 200 girls attended. Janine took the rap sessions a bit further to start an organization targeted specifically at building self-esteem and teaching leadership skills in young girls. Since starting Girl Talk, the program has served nearly 3500 girls. In addition, Janine's start of Girl Talk's Annual Prom Project has collected over 2500 prom gowns for girls in need. Janine is the recent recipient of the prestigious Pride Magazine Youth Empowerment Award for her work with young girls in the Girl Talk program and has been featured on WSOC.com as one of those 'Making A Difference' in her community.
